Dear Betty Ann,

Well, here I am again, I hope you don't mind. Haven't we had more fun this year?

Don't you hope that we get to go to Morehead this summer? I certainly do.

Betty Ann, honey, you really don't know what a nice time I've had over at your house this winter when Nita & I spent the site with you.

Can you really believe that you're actually a junior it must be wonderful.

Well, I'll close now. I know that I'll see you loads this summer.

Lots of love,
Eleanor [Signature]

Lots of luck to

Spirit of America

"For 150 years all the peoples of the earth have held me as a hope in their eyes. From the four corners of the earth people of all colors, religions and races have set sail to make their home under the folds of Old Glory. I have guaranteed to each and all, native and foreign, free speech, a free pen, freedom of religion, and trial by jury. I have made the words, liberty and America, synonymous. No call from an oppressed people has ever gone unanswered by me. My mighty rivers, my towering mountains, my prairies, my forests, and my oceans have been open to travel for all my people without police permits or a spy system. I froze, shoeless, in the snow at Valley Forge. I hung on by a hair for my life at Gettysburg. Today I lift myself to my full proud height and proclaim that I who froze at Valley Forge and battled for my life at Gettysburg shall lay in the dust those enemies who again seek to enslave me. For—

Dedication

We are proud of our Broughton boys who have left our school with only courage and determination in their hearts to fight a good fight. We at home have the unshakable faith and conviction that they will come back, and come back with bands playing, flags waving, and victory in their songs.

We do not have all the boys' names on our service list, for many of them have gone since the LATIPAC went to press. However we, the senior class of 1943, wish to honor all the Broughton boys who have gone. To those whose names follow and to any whose names have been omitted, we dedicate this

War Edition of the 1943 LATIPAC

to

Broughton boys

in the service of the United States.

Dearest Betty Ann,
 you be a very good girl after I leave this place. Just because I'm finally getting out I don't want to hear tell of you being anything but a very, very sweet girl, just like you are! Please this writing I can really do better, but you know I'm so excited about getting out that I can't write

The Editorial Staff of THE LATIPAC has planned the annual. The members are: Nancy Westbrook, Miss Nancy Burge, adviser; Dorothy Swain, Sibyl Goerch, Dot Peebles, Tommie Cates, Anne Carter, Jean Rhodes, Sybil Brooks, Sarah Desern.

Good luck to you, Betty Ann. Don't forget us. We'll miss you -

Editor-in-Chief, SIBYL GOERCH; Business Manager, CLOSSON ALLEN; and Advertising Manager, KATHERINE POWERS.

The 1943 LATIPAC staff was divided into two groups—the editorial staff and the business staff. The editorial staff, advised by Miss Nancy Burge, was composed of nine senior girls who worked diligently during the last semester of school. They had many troubled hours while copying rolls, writing features, collecting interesting material, typing, and sorting out and arranging pictures.

After cutting and recutting according to government orders, we have presented you a War Edition of the 1943 LATIPAC, preserving in words and pictures the story of how Broughton students lived a year when their country was at war.

and We Managed . . .

THE 1943 LATIPAC

The LATIPAC is in four main divisions: Administration and Faculty, Classes, Activities, Features.

Sibyl Goerch, as Editor-in-Chief, has made an effort to have everything up to date and better than ever before.

The business staff is divided this year for the first time into a business group, led by Closson Allen, and an advertising group, led by Katherine Powers. Mr. G. E. Crawley advised the business staff. The business group kept account of all financial matters while the advertising group solicited and collected for the advertisements.

The snapshots, contributed by students, have helped in presenting a more complete picture of our school life.

Miss Laura Helen Paschal was photographic adviser for the LATIPAC.

Mr. John Minter, of Edwards & Broughton Co., has worked with all the groups and helped them to put their ideas together to give you this book. This staff is grateful for his aid.

The Raleigh merchants have helped finance this 1943 edition of the LATIPAC by buying advertising space. Their advertisements may be found in the back of this book.

The advertising and business staff of THE LATIPAC has kept a record of all receipts and obtained advertisements from various Raleigh merchants. The members are: Nancy Westbrook, Jean Thomas, Mary Badger Wetmore, Tommie Cates, Hannah Davis, Katherine Powers, Closson Allen, Mr. G. E. Crawley, Adviser; Beverly Caudle, Betsy Carter, Barbara Thomas, Sybil Brooks, Sarah Desern, Charlotte Fulks, Jean Norwood, Jimmy Allen, Johnny Williamson, Al Burden, Anne Carter, Katherine Klyman, Doris Linzey, Bill Bell, Frank Anderson.

We Administered

MR. JESSE O. SANDERSON, Superintendent
Raleigh City Schools

The National Emergency has affected the life of every man, woman, and child in this country. With the help and understanding of an unusually fine administration, however, any organization can be made to run smoothly. Men and women have been called from every walk of life to defend the ideals of democracy. Schools, as well as other professions, have felt and feel these effects.

February of last year the Raleigh City Schools welcomed a new superintendent, Mr. Sanderson. Our school, Needham Broughton, began in September without 25 of last year's teachers. Since September we have lost five of our faculty, with two entering the service. This means that many of our teachers came to Broughton for the first time this year.

Although the first citizen of our school, Mr. Jesse O. Sanderson, has been here only a comparatively short time, he has become the friend and supporter of every Broughton student. Mr. Sanderson supervises ten grammar schools for white children, four for colored, three high schools for white children, and one for colored. The total enrollment of these schools for the school year 1942-43 was 46,113. There were 15 principals and 289 teachers employed.

and So Did We!

MR. H. A. HELMS
Principal

Mr. H. A. Helms, principal of 1,120 students at Broughton, worked to improve the understanding between parents, teachers, and pupils. He introduced new courses in the curriculum that would be of aid during the war. He spent his time wisely, and he stood for what was right. The students have learned to love and respect their easy going principal.

Mr. J. F. Bryant, as Business Manager, has handled the order for books, instructional supplies, school equipment, and has had charge of the upkeep of all the school buildings and grounds in the city for the past nine years. Just before the LATIPAC went to press, it was announced that Mr. Bryant would resign his position at the end of the school term.

The eight people who met as necessity demanded and handled the routine business and discussed plans for the improvement of the school system made up the school board. The following vocations are represented on our school board: Mrs. O. F. McCrary is a home maker; Mayor G. H. Andrews is mayor of Raleigh; Mrs. W. B. Aycock is secretary for Associated Charities in the city; Mr. Leroy Martin is a banker; Dr. V. M. Hicks is an eye specialist; Mr. A. K. Pearce is an engineer; Dr. A. C. Campbell is doctor for State College and has offices in the city; Mr. J. O. Sanderson, superintendent of Raleigh schools.

The Fundamentals

. . . A BEAUTIFUL BUILDING

The fundamentals used in the making of an accredited high school are a beautiful building, a good faculty, and a coöperative student body. Needham Broughton has these three qualifications.

Due to the increasing number of high school students in Raleigh, another high school, Needham Broughton, was built in 1929. It was named for Needham B. Broughton, a prominent business man of the city.

During its fourteen years of existence, the school has made many contributions to the educational life of Raleigh. Its graduates, leaving the school with the ability to render varied services, have taken their places in the public life of the city, state, and entire nation.

CLASSES

We studied at Broughton. Perhaps our parents will never believe it, and perhaps our report cards will never show it; but we went to classes anyway and pursued our studies with the vim and vigor that only Broughton students ever acquire.

When spring arrived, we held some of our classes out of doors under the shade of the trees we planted Arbor Day. A few of us decided that our schedule was entirely too long and tried the proverbial "cut" or "snap," but after a session in our hardest class, the Detention Hall, we always decided that the regular schedule was much nicer.

Completing six years of high school life, the senior class of 1943 with 165 members bids its alma mater a final adieu. During the year, many seniors have left the school to attend other schools, to enter college, to join some phase of the armed forces, or to take war jobs.

It is true that this year at Broughton has been different in many respects. With the country at war, naturally, the class of '43, along with the entire student body, has felt the importance of preparedness. The boys have taken calisthenics; some of the girls have studied home nursing; all have been active in both school and outside organizations. "The Barretts" was given as the senior class play on April 30, 1943. Yes, by combining pleasure and hard work this group of graduates has succeeded in making Broughton a finer and friendlier school.

Junior Class Officers

PEGGY DAVIS, MISS PHILLIPS, ROBERT CORNICK, ROY FULLER, GEORGE CHERRY.

This year the Juniors elected as their class officers the following students: President, Robert Cornick; Vice President, George Bason; Secretary, Peggy Davis; Treasurer, Roy Fuller; Sergeant-at-Arms, George Cherry, and Adviser, Miss Phillips.

Among the highlights of the year was the Junior Play, "Stage Door," under the direction of Mrs. O. K. Joyner. The Juniors ordered their class rings which were hard to secure due to war limitations. The rings were received during the month of May. The "Junior-Senior," the biggest social event of the year, was held April 2. Among those responsible for the success of the dance were: Peggy Davis, Joe Norwood, Henry Lineberger, Anne Johnson, Alex Veazey, Charles Wood, Betty Bryant, and Robert Cornick.

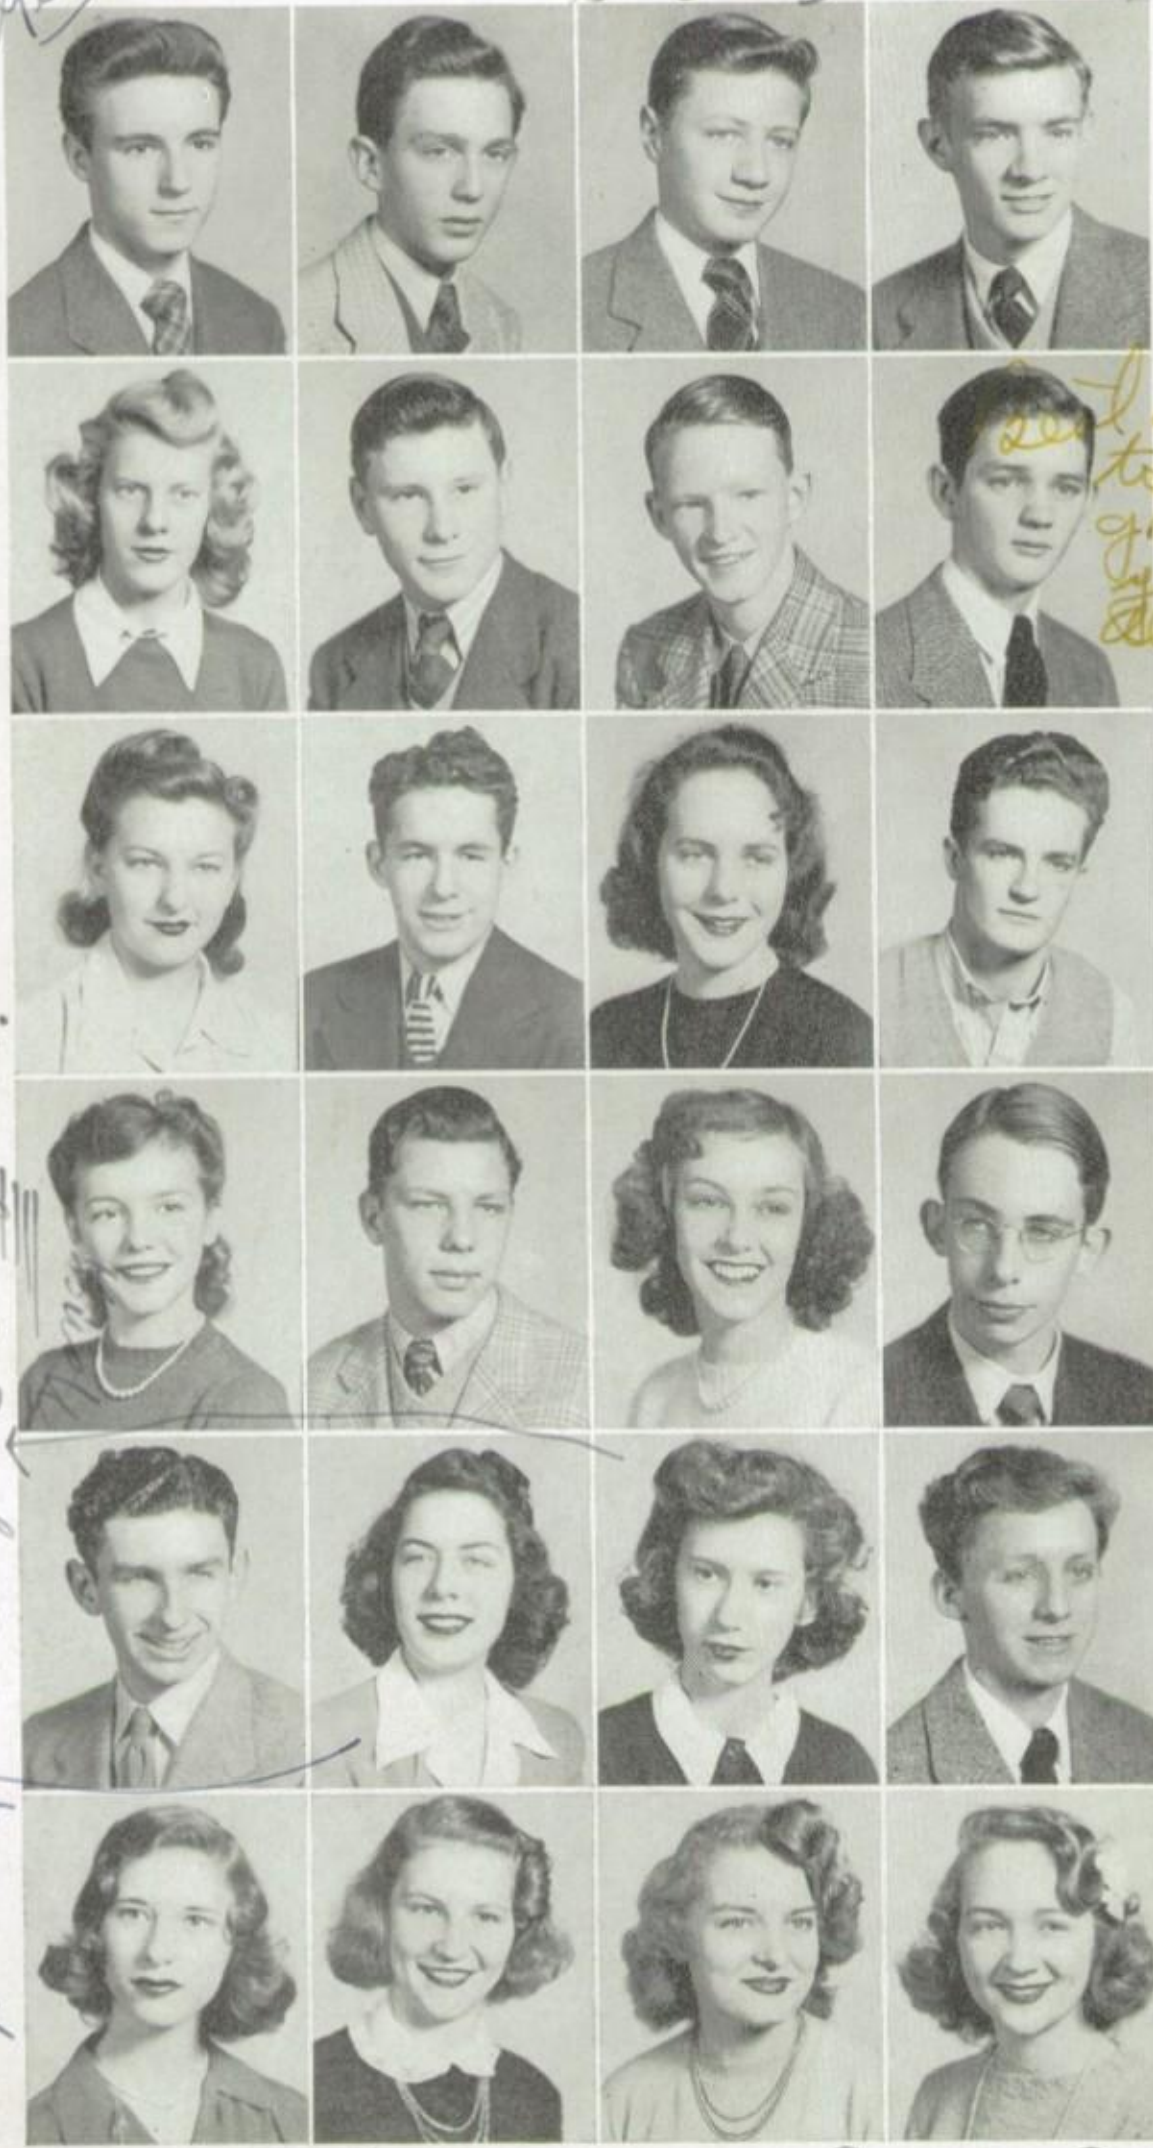

Marshals for the year were: Betty Bryant, Dan Martin, Billy Weathers, and Robert Cornick.

ACTIVITIES

We not only studied, but we also had time for clubs, plays, and games. The extra-curricula activities at Broughton played a large part this year in our high school life. The important thing was that almost every student at Broughton was enrolled in some organization. Although we participated in many war activities, we still governed ourselves by our Student Council and attended our other club meetings.

Best of everything to a cat, good looking handsome, etc girl. Remember me.
 Dan

Upholding the high standards set by previous groups, the student council, along with its twelve committees, this year has endeavored to maintain pleasant conditions around the school and to render definite services to the student body. In November seven delegates, accompanied by Miss Caroline Powell, faculty adviser, attended the State Student Council Congress in Rocky Mount. The sports committee carried out a program of intramural athletics. During the year classroom films were available for student use. In keeping with the nation-wide victory program, the council supported the organization of a Victory Corps at Broughton. An appropriation was given to the music department for purchasing a record player. The assembly committee of the council planned all chapel programs. Briefly, the council, through its influence, has tried to make this a happy and worthwhile year for teachers and students alike.

SCHOOL STORE AND BANK. This organization furnishes the students with school supplies. The council uses the profits from these sales for improvements around the school. Grant Moen, treasurer of the council, is the manager of the school store.

All school finances are handled by a central banking system through this bank.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE. The members of the social committee act as hosts to visitors at the school and arrange social events.

Among the prominent events during the fall were the tea and scavenger hunt and the student leaders banquet. The group also decorated for the Queen of Hearts presentation. Betsy Paul Yelverton is chairman of the committee.

HOUSE. The purpose of this committee is to beautify the interior of the school. A spring clean-up campaign was sponsored by Martha Hamrick, chairman, and members of the group during the first week of March.

GROUNDS. By planting shrubbery and flowers, and by keeping the ground free of rubbish, the grounds committee attempts to keep the exterior of the school in good order. The committee was headed by C. A. Dillon in the fall term and Betty Betts in the spring term.

CITIZENSHIP. The sale of war stamps and defense bonds, the scrap drive, and other events leading to better citizenship were sponsored by this group. Wilmer Betts was chairman during the fall term and Dot Swain during the spring term.

CHAPEL. Led by Sibyl Goerch, this committee has planned all assembly programs for the year. Variety was the keynote of their success.

PUBLICITY. Acquainting the outside world with events occurring in the school, the publicity committee, with Dot Peebles as chairman, has placed school news and pictures in the two local newspapers.

AUDIO-VISUAL. Using the profits from the full-length movies given in the school, the Audio-Visual committee purchased educational films for classroom purposes. Mildred Showalter headed the group.

SPORTS. All Intramural sports were directed by the sports committee. Co-chairmen of the committee were Lib Campbell and LeRoy Martin.

POINTS. A student should not carry more than 16 points for extra-curricular activities. These records are checked by the points committee, which is headed by Jean Norwood.

CALENDAR. Posters, place cards, favors, and other artistic designs for various school activities were made by this group. Ruth Gray was chairman of the committee. One of the most important contributions of this committee was the making of a scrapbook for the Schools-at-War-Program.

ELECTIONS. Elections for each class and the Student Council are directed by the elections committee. The sergeant-at-arms of the council, Graham Spencer, was chairman of this group.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is composed of those members of the junior and senior classes who meet the four required standards—scholarship, leadership, character, and service. They are selected by the votes of both students and faculty members.

At the fall tapping ceremony October 9, five seniors were taken into the society. February 26 marked the date of the spring ceremony. At this time two seniors and eight juniors were recognized as meeting the designated requirements.

According to the constitution of the National Honor Society, no group of officers can serve for more than one term. Closson Allen was president during the fall term. Other officers at that time were Al Burden, vice president; Anne Carter, secretary; and Dot Peebles, treasurer. Leaders chosen for the spring term included Dot Swain, president; Hilman Thomas, vice president; Ruth Gray, secretary; and Ernest Page, treasurer.

Young Journalists are Busy these Days

This year The Hi-Times, made noticeable gains in sales and size. The paper was increased to six pages, and more papers were sold than ever before, monthly sales going over 900 practically every issue. The Columbia Scholastic Press Association accorded it second rating among schools of 1,000 to 1,500, an improvement over last year's third rating.

The journalism class, assisted by a number of outside workers, did most of the writing. Betty Sutton served as editor-in-chief; Marion McIntosh as business manager; Mary Lewis Thompson as advertising manager; Ernest Page as sales manager; and Baxter Sapp as photographer. Miss Celeste Penny was the faculty adviser. She was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Knowles, Miss Oma Bliss Lewis, and Mr. John A. House.

This year we have had a change in our band schedule and are now equipped with our own Needham Broughton bands.

The advanced band plays for any local school functions and the beginners' band each year represents a preparatory group which after one year merges into the advanced band.

Good work is done by both groups under a steady schedule of daily meetings during the school day. Although the advanced band joins with the similar group from Hugh Morson for larger city parades and the outdoor football season work, the new schedule is essentially independent of anybody outside of Needham Broughton and promises to develop a limitless supply of band activity right here in our own school.

Needham Broughton Glee Club

The Glee Club, which is composed of 75 members, has taken quite an active part in the activities of the school. The group has participated on chapel programs, including the annual Christmas pageant, and three of the Parent-Teacher Association meetings. On May 7 the chorus gave its Spring concert.

Through the efforts of the student council and Mr. Sanderson, the music department received a record player for use in the music and music appreciation classes. Money received from the Broughton Revue was used to buy records for the music department.

Thirty members of the Broughton Glee Club are members of the Raleigh High School Glee Club, which is directed by Frederick Stanley Smith. These students have appeared before many civic groups throughout the city and on numerous radio broadcasts. They also sang for the Baccalaureate service May 23.

Officers of the Broughton Club are Tommie Cates, president; Doris Harris, first vice president; Marguerite George, second vice president; Jo Ann Nance, secretary-treasurer; Jimmy Wood, sergeant-at-arms; Betty Bryant and Dot Peebles, reporters; and Mrs. Leo F. de Sola, director.

E. Crawley, Adviser.

The purpose of the Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community higher standards of Christian character.

The Hi-Y helped in the scrap drive that was put on by the school in the fall. The outstanding function of the fall was the Hi-Y minstrel, which drew a full house. On January 22, the annual Hi-Y dance was given in the Broughton gymnasium. An all-star orchestra from Fort Bragg played from nine to twelve. The high light of the evening came when in the figure, the officers and members formed the Hi-Y emblem.

All during the year the Hi-Y met in the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday evenings. Many outstanding men spoke to the members at these meetings.

Mr. G. E. Crawley was the adviser.

SENIOR OFFICERS AND ADVISERS

BETTY SUTTON, President; ANN COPLEY, Vice President; SARAH DENNY, Secretary; JEAN PERRY, Treasurer; MARTHA HAMRICK, Program Chairman; MISS HARTMAN and MISS ELLINGTON, Advisers.

The Senior Girl Reserves Club had for its theme this year, The Ideal Woman. Through many interesting and varied programs this theme has been carried out. Among the additional activities of the club were the community services, such as, making a service flag, holding a candlelight recognition service, helping in the Y.W.C.A. membership drive, Christmas caroling, and holding worship services. The social functions consisted of a tea for the eighth graders, a scavenger hunt, and holding open house at the Y.W.C.A.

THIS CLUB, composed of ninth grade girls, is a part of the Y.W.C.A. and shares in the big purposes of that organization. The symbol of the Club is a blue triangle within a circle. The triangle represents the ideal of three-fold development—the development of mind, body and spirit. The circle stands for the world-wide interests and connections of Girl Reserves. In carrying out its theme of the year, "Guideposts," the Club has had varied and interesting programs, such as—Guideposts to Pleasing Personality, Guideposts to Friendliness, Guideposts to Health, Guideposts to Wider Service. In addition to weekly programs there have been enjoyable social affairs and helpful community services.

The Library—A Bee Hive of Activity

This year has been the most important in the history of the library. By completely rearranging the furniture and fittings it was possible to separate the library and the study hall. Both study hall students and students from classrooms all over the building may now use the library.

The card catalog, the index to the contents of the library is, after three years' work nearing completion and students are beginning to find it useful in their work. The vertical files, containing thousands of mounted clippings, are ready for use and provide a wealth of informative material and illustrations on a wide variety of subjects, including much local and state material.

More than five hundred books have been added to the library this year, bringing the collection to around 5,600 volumes in all, and much has been done to add to the attractiveness of both the study hall and the library.

THE LIBRARY STAFF

The library assistants look after the details of library management. Without their help little or nothing could be accomplished. They keep the circulation desk before, during and after school, charging books, collecting overdues, writing and delivering notices about reserve and overdue books, and making out bills and receipts.

It is the library assistants who keep the room in order, returning books to their proper places on the shelves. They also supervise the large collection of current and back-number magazines—locating magazine articles with the help of the Readers' Guide.

During the year the staff entertained the Faculty at a Book Week tea when the new books were ready for distribution. At Christmas the Eighth Grade students were given a party. In the Spring the library served as host to all high school teachers in the city.

On December 4, 1942 the Little Theater under the sponsorship of the Junior Class presented George F. Kauffman and Edna Ferber's "Stage Door."

The Club was invited by the Carolina Dramatics Association to attend the Annual Spring Festival. On March 26 a group composed of Little Theatre members went to Chapel Hill to present the one-act comedy "Jazz and Minuet."

The Senior members of the Little Theatre did much to make "The Barretts" one of the most successful Senior plays given by the Senior Class.

Golden Masquers, an honor society open only to those students who have done outstanding work in different phases of play production, is a very prominent part of the Little Theatre. This year there were many students who were recognized in this honor society.

Charlie Lambert, Closson Allen, Bob St. Lawrence, Barbara Mahler, Sibyl Goerch, Bill Thompson, Charles Jones, Beau Newcomb, Katherine Klyman, Francyse Jones, Doris Linzey, Dot Swain, Katherine Powers, Edith Lee Burgess, Barbara Pearse, Mabel Baucom, Charlotte Fulks, Patty Roy.

To be eligible for the Golden Masquers, the Little Theatre members must participate in enough dramatic activities to enable them to earn the sufficient number of points. They must earn either 20 points in one year or 30 points during a two-year period.

The cast of the Junior Play, "Stage Door," was composed of more actors who were appearing in a major production for the first time than most Junior Play casts. These amateurs did a professional job.

The Senior Play, "The Barretts," was a costume play; and after the production, the Senior Class and the Little Theatre presented the costumes used in the play to the school.

...and with Spanish—We're Good Neighbors

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club this year was rather late getting organized. It was not until after Christmas that the officers were elected and the actual meetings were begun. The club meets after school every other Tuesday.

The purpose of this organization is to promote an additional interest in the study of Spanish. The theme this year has been Pan-Americanism. The culture and customs of our southern neighbors have been studied so that Spanish-speaking students will have a broader knowledge of the other twenty republics making up this hemisphere.

Victory Corps

Because of the war, we found it necessary at Broughton to form a Victory Corps so that we could do our part in the great defense program. Many of our old clubs were discontinued in favor of calisthenics, first aid, and home nursing.

These particular activities and classes were held during the school day, but some Victory Corps activities took place after school. The "Victory Quiz," for instance, was a weekly radio program over station WPTF in which many students took part. We were all enrolled in some phase of the Victory Corps at Broughton because we were eager to help our country at war.

Joe Norwood, Hugh Stone, Chairman Dorothy Swain, and Arnold Smith list the type of books Broughton students donated for the Victory Book Campaign. Five hundred sixty-five books were contributed, and Miss Celeste Penny's senior homeroom sent 75 copies of the Upper Room to the marines at New River. These three boys, led by Dot Swain, encouraged fellow students to buy enough War stamps to send thirteen jeeps to Guadalcanal, or Africa, or perhaps to New Guiana.

Broughton students found the Victory Corps prevalent in their classes. Arthur Hendrix, Red Youngsteadt, and Armistead Love are examining the model airplanes, built by students, as a phase of the new aeronautics course, given especially to those boys interested in the Air Corps. Refresher math is also a preparatory course that was added to the curriculum. All senior boys were required to take gym to prepare them physically. Army V-12 and Navy V-5 exams were given to 53 boys April 2 who hoped to continue their education along with their military training.

Betty dear you and I have a lot in common so we ought to get together once in a while so we might if you say so.
Arnold

Victory Corps

Although high school girls cannot prepare to fight for their country overseas, they can be trained to fight at home. Betsy Dell Maxwell, Ester Stathacos, Betsy Paul Yelverton, and Nellie Jeffries are members of the home nursing class which is an important part of home defense. They are taught to make beds, to take temperature, to give the patient a bath, to plan diets, and to do many other things helpful in home nursing.

We did not forget our Broughton boys in the service. Mabel Baucom, pointing out a star to Mildred Showalter, made this service flag in honor of our friends and classmates. The flag was presented in a most impressive patriotic skit, written by Bob St. Lawrence and Francyse Jones. We did not forget the boys when we gave to the Red Cross, bought stamps and bonds, dedicated our LATIPAC, and sent out copies of the Hi-Times. Some of us gave our blood for a blood-bank, and all of us helped to contribute 37,000 pounds of scrap.

ATHLETICS

Athletics has meant more to us this year at Broughton than ever before because it was a part of our regular schedule in most cases. We realized that only through exercise and clean living could we build the type of bodies that our country needs. All our senior boys were required to take gym, and most of the underclassmen made it a part of their regular schedule.

Because of transportation difficulties our athletic teams had some trouble in playing other high schools out of town. However, we continued our sports as best we could and learned to make good sportsmanship the keynote of each game.

Football

Raleigh opened its season by playing the Smithfield Independents. After a hard fought game the score was a 6 to 6 tie. Allen scored for the locals to tie the game.

On the following week Raleigh met one of its oldest rivals, Greensboro. Greensboro had beaten Raleigh for the past six years. The two teams played a hard fought battle in what promised to be an 0 to 0 score. In the last 45 seconds Chalmers intercepted a pass from Carl Phipps and ran 40 yards for the only score of the game. For the first time in six years Raleigh had won over Greensboro.

Following the Greensboro game, Raleigh defeated Lumberton 40 to 0. Jordan led the Caps with 15 points.

The next week Raleigh journeyed to Wilson to suffer their first defeat of the year. With Clark and Fulghum leading Wilson, Raleigh lost 13 to 0.

E.M.I. was the victim of the Caps the following week. The gold clad boys ran up the highest score ever made by a Raleigh team. Led by

Coaches STONE and GREGSON

Little Joe Jordan, who scored 22 points, the Caps beat the Cadets 60 to 7.

Fresh from the E.M.I. victory the Caps traveled to Charlotte to defeat the "Wildcats" 12 to 6. Jordan ran 61 yards to tie the score. Allen then went over from the five to win the game for the Caps.

The following week the team played its toughest game of the year. Oxford Orphanage, highly favored over the Caps, was defeated 19 to 13 by a great Raleigh team. Touchdowns by Benson, Allen, and Jordan gave the Caps their sixth win of the season.

Raleigh then traveled to Wilmington to take a 6 to 0 victory. Raymond Stewart intercepted a Wilmington pass and ran 85 yards for the winning touchdown.

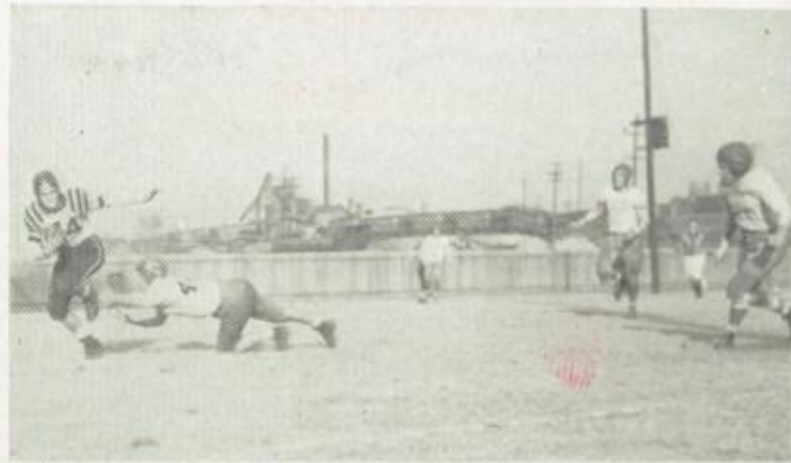

Overconfidence brought Raleigh its second loss of the season. Lexington defeated the Caps 13 to 12. Allen scored twice for the Raleigh team.

Then came the big annual event of the year. Raleigh was to meet her keenest rival—Durham. Durham was victorious over Raleigh 6 to 0. This was the third loss of the season for the Caps.

Raleigh's final game was played with Rocky Mount. Howard Turner of Rocky Mount ran 71 yards to score the only touchdown of the game. Raleigh had lost to Rocky Mount 7 to 0.

Under the leadership of coaches Ray Gregson, Lee Stone, and Fletcher Ferguson the Caps had a very successful season. Joe Jordan and Jimmy Allen led the backfield. Jordan was high scorer for the conference with 63 points. Lester Chalmers and Raymond Stewart led the line through the season. Chalmers, though a guard, scored two touchdowns to be the highest scorer of the linemen in the state.

Upon graduation the majority of the Capital's team will answer the call to the service.

Top to bottom: Graham Spencer intercepted a pass and returned it about 40 yards at Durham . . . Our boys near the goal line . . . Block that pass . . . That fatal Durham game . . . Sonny Martin recovered a fumble.

In Basketball We Made Many Goals

Under the leadership of Coach Lee Stone, the basketball team had the best season in many years with 14 wins and 3 losses. Paul Ellington and Captain Graham Spencer led the team in scoring with 101 and 100 points respectively.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association, led by Mrs. B. B. Bray, Jr., has sponsored softball, ping-pong, skating, hiking, and swimming to further the interest and sportsmanship of the members. This organization alone enables girls to receive letters, monograms, stars, pins, and other rewards. The Athletic Club plays a large part in our sports program at Broughton, for it buys equipment for the gymnasium with money made from socials and other functions.

OFFICERS

Members

Peggy Abernathy, Helen Almond, Catheryn Murray, Kitty McMillan, Betty Penny, Betty Ann Champion, Ella Hutchins, Francyse Jones, Nancy Sawyer, Hazel Stratton, Patricia Thrower, Ann Lowder, Nellie Jacobs, Frances Lisk, Mary Louise Wright.

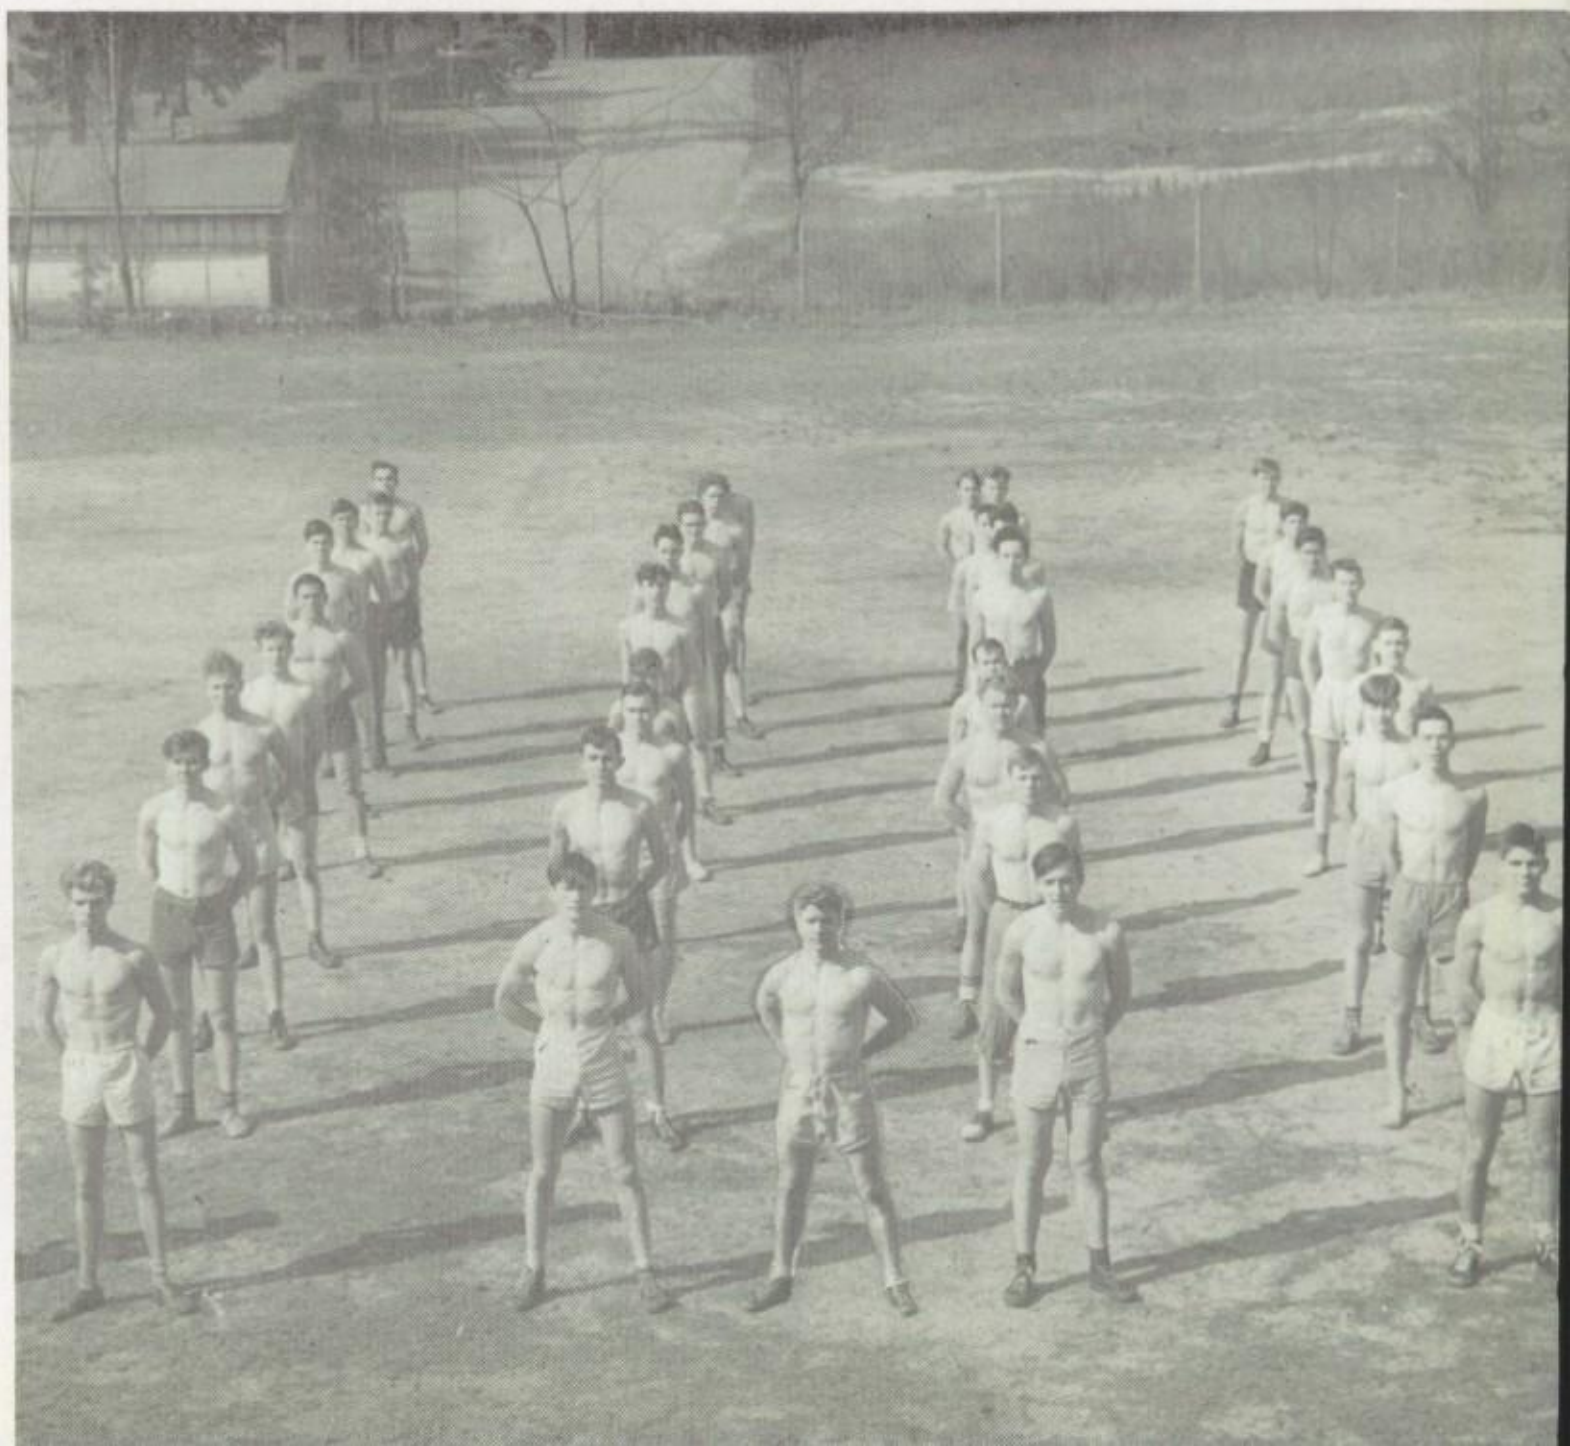

For the first time in the history of Broughton, senior boys were required to take physical education every day during the school week to prepare them for army life. These calisthenic classes were held at the third period under the direction of Mr. Stone. The student director was Red Upchurch.

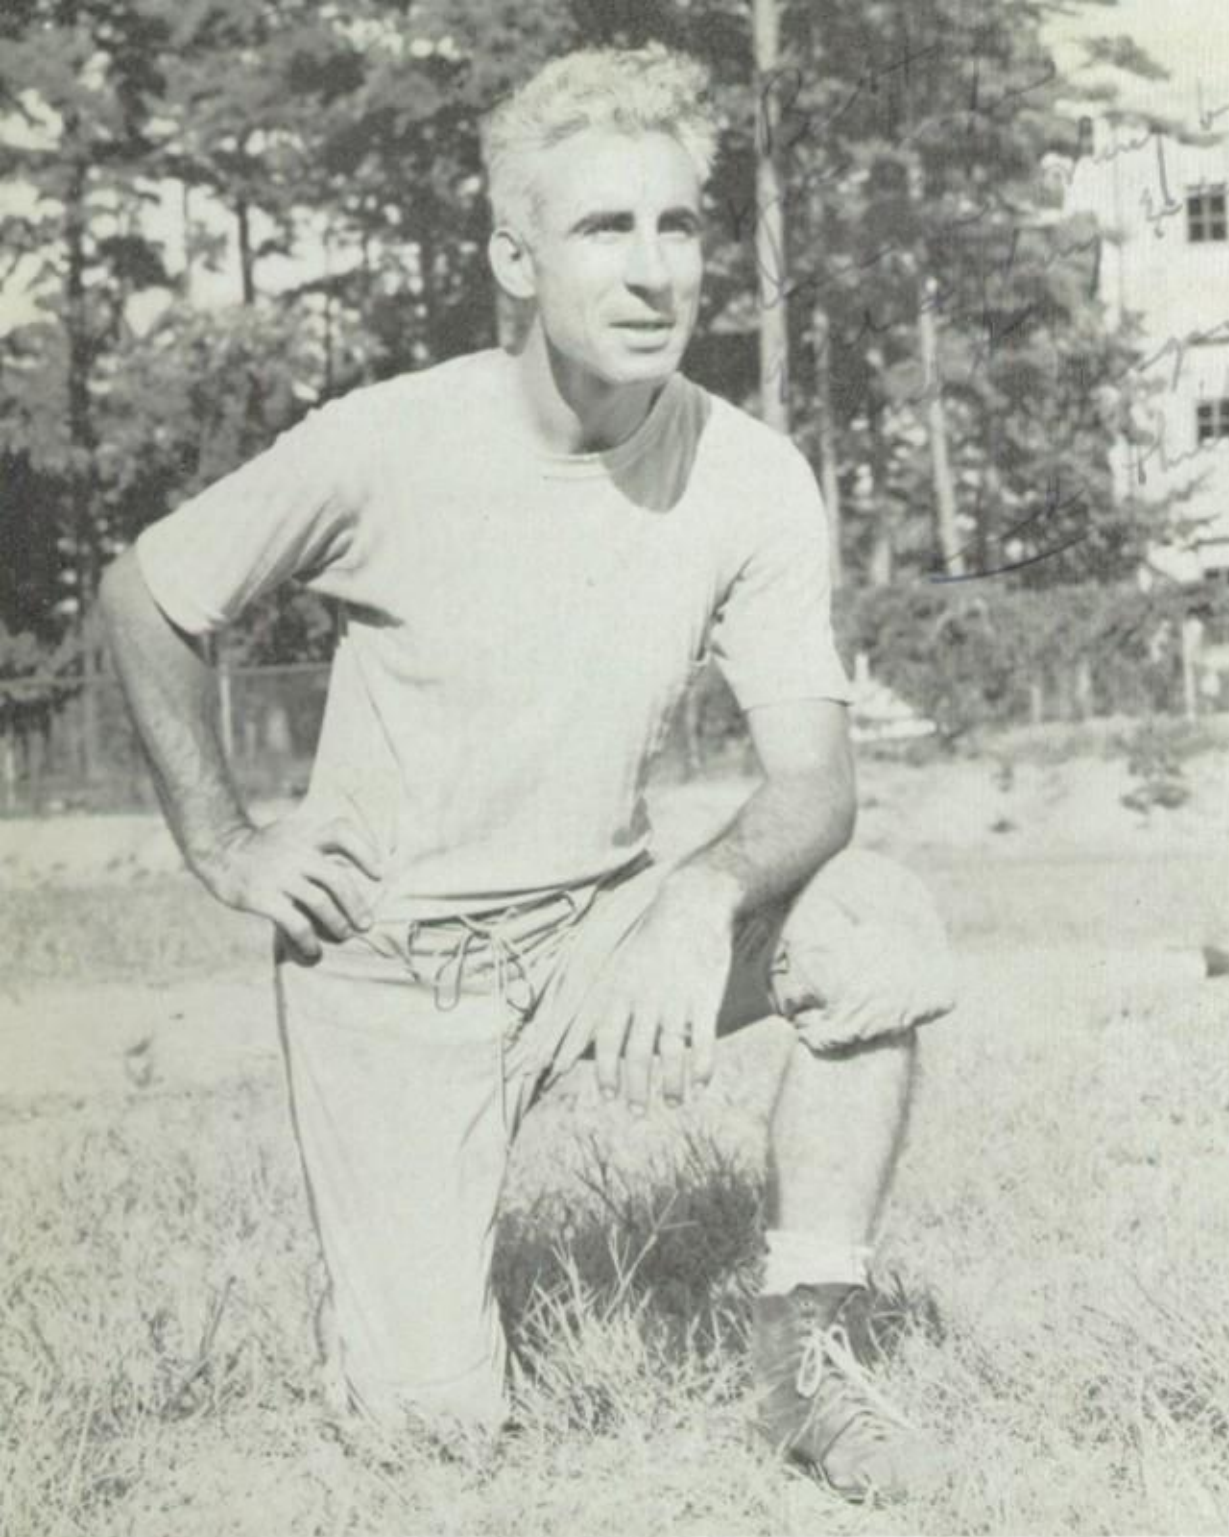

Many of the boys who had not had any gym or any phase of physical education since the seventh grade found it rather difficult to do all the strenuous exercises at first, but they soon developed into fine specimens after several cross-country runs and work-outs in the gym.

This course was a definite part of the new organization, the Victory Corps, and it is hoped that next year more boys in more classes will be given the opportunity to take calisthenics as a part of their regular curriculum.

Calisthenics

Tribute

In appreciation to Coach Ray Gregson, who is leaving Broughton to undertake the new job as Business Manager of the Raleigh Public Schools, we would like to say that we are going to miss him as a coach and as our friend.

"Greg," in unfailing loyalty, enthusiasm, and sincere and deep interest in every boy and girl at Broughton, has exerted a marked influence as football coach for 10 years at Broughton. He was athletic director for three years, produced 13 championship teams, and was Dean of Boys for three years.

Whether we call him "Rock," "Greg," "Coach," or "Sherlock," we all have the same opinion that he was a vital part of our high school life. None of us will ever forget the old familiar phrase, "Give him a zero," nor will we forget our popular coach and friend, Ray Gregson.

FEATURES

This year we are featuring our superlatives in activities that are characteristic of the war effort.

Our superlative pictures, represent not only the actions of the superlatives themselves, but the actions of the entire student body through the year. Walking to school, Red Cross work, defense stamp sales, home nursing—all have been representative of the actions of the students.

Betty Ann,
You are truly a fine girl and I like you lots. May I wish you the very best of luck always. Keep

Johnny Williamson and Sibyl Goerch, plowing a Victory Garden behind the athletic field, are doing their part to conserve in a time when every tomato and string bean is a vitamin towards victory.

Sports

Graham Spencer and Lib Campbell, preparing to skate during lunch period, are typical examples of how Broughton students are keeping healthy and strong by participating in some type of sport.

Scholarship

Mildred Showalter and Al Burden, industriously studying in the high school library, remind us that it is important to be keen, alert, and well informed when our country is at war.

Beau-Belle

Robert Turnbull, thoroughly enjoying buying a War Bond from pretty Marguerite Worth, is just one of the hundreds of students who invest in stamps and bonds daily at Broughton.

Vocational training in the distributive field is a comparatively new phase of the Federal Program of Education. The inadequacy of training provided in the field of Distributive Education plus the recognition of economic and social needs for making such vocational training available for workers in distributive occupations resulted in a provision for distributive education being added to the George-Dean Act.

Distributive occupations are those which employ workers in the business exchanges necessary for making available to consumers the goods and services produced by others. Examples of such occupations are: Managers, buyers, personnel and training directors, salespersons, merchandising, managers, personal shoppers, advertising personnel, display men, and fashion coordinators. Some distributive businesses are jewelry, printing, department stores, specialty shops, and public utilities.

This year the Distributive Education classes have been larger than ever before. At the end of the year the girls and boys in the classes were presented with buttons showing that they were a part of the Retailers' Victory Corps. In the spring, they presented a fashion show for defense.

Best wishes + lots of love always!

Thanks for the Memories

BY SIBYL GOERCH

The following discourse took place between two old familiar objects at Broughton, the clock in the tower and the flag pole:

"Well, Gloria Flag Pole," sighed the clock in the tower, "tomorrow is the last day we'll see these 165 seniors go strolling down these walks, laughing and talking together, helping each other with English assignments, making dates, and planning a dance revue, or a style show, or something new. They were the most original bunch of seniors we ever watched grow up, always thinking of something clever to do."

"Yes," responded the flag pole, "And do you remember that day six years ago when these dignified seniors walked in these halls and studied in these classes for the first time? They were subbies then, and in those days the subbies carried upper-classmen's books and trays, and did almost anything they were asked to do for the first few weeks. My, but they were scrawny little boys and girls! Haven't they blossomed?"

"Mr. Shaw was principal then," continued the flag pole, "and those boys and girls started out with Billy Kenyon as their president and Mrs. C. P. Daniels as their adviser."

"I remember one night they had me all lighted up," reminisced the clock, "because they were having a party. That was a fine party! Some of them did a dance that they called the 'Big Apple,' but most of them ran and slid on the floor. Hilman Thomas was selected as 'Miss Sub-Freshman'."

"You know, Claudia, that group of boys and girls were the only class to be sub-freshmen two years in a row," sympathized the flag pole. "They still had to sit on the right-hand side in chapel because the citizens in Raleigh voted for a twelfth grade. Jimmy Allen was class president, and David Cozart was adviser. It was Mr. Paul A. Reid's first year as principal. Don't you remember those boys and girls coming over here to see 'Smiling Through' and 'Harbour Lights'?"

"I will never forget the ninth grade because that was the time they had 'Sadie Hawkins Day.' Why Juanita Anderson, Kat Powers, Sibyl Goerch, Jean Kiger, Gloria Vann Batchelor, Betsy Fox, Betsey London Cordon, Marguerite Worth, and Jean Norwood scared me to death chasing those little boys around my base. I think it scared the boys too, but they all celebrated at a 'Sadie Hawkins Dance' that night. It wasn't long before they just naturally became freshman, though."

"Bobby Broughton led them as president," began Gloria, "with the assistance of Miss Annie Smaw. I remember that year in particular because three little boys, Duke Morgan, Jackie Hawkins, and Ralph Parks, nearly broke my face with a football they kicked at me. I believe that was the year a member of their class was a cheer leader. He was a big red-headed boy named John Alexander."

"And that was the year they lowered my flag at half mast in memory of that fine teacher, Mrs. William Hicks," continued the flag pole.

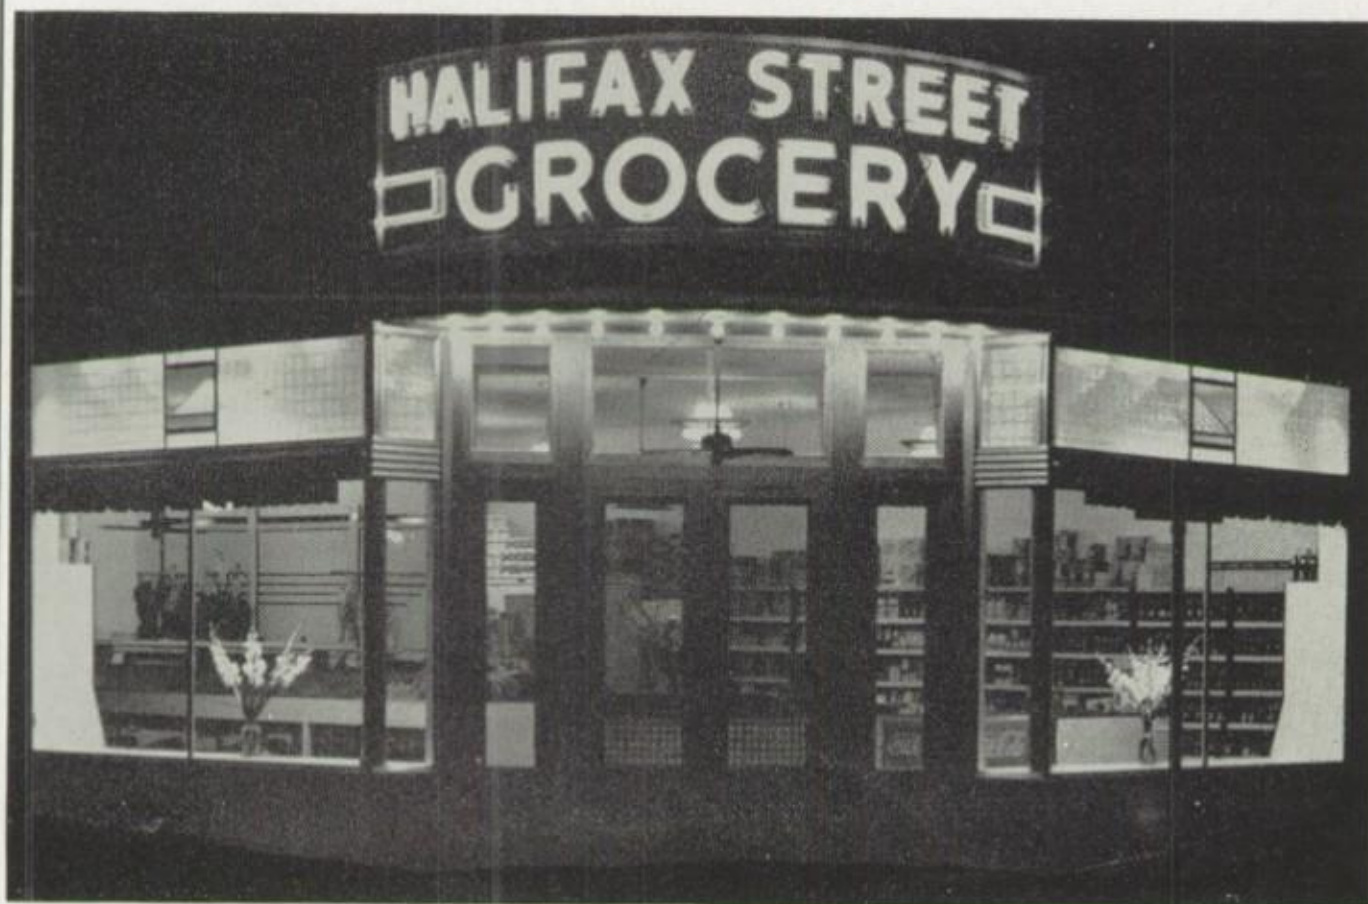

"Gloria, will you ever forget that Valen'ine party that tenth grade had? Marguerite Worth and Hardy Mills were the 'King and Queen of Hearts.' They certainly must have liked Billy Kenyon because he was elected president again, and Miss Melissa Strother was the class adviser. Johnny Williamson edited a paper called the Roof Garden News."

"Vivian Barrow and Betty Penny led the drill team, and Jackie Hawkins was the secretary of the Student Council. There was an epidemic of measles, but we just couldn't hold those kids down because they wanted to be juniors so bad," said Gloria Flag Pole.

"As juniors, those boys and girls really were into everything. That was the year Mr. Helms came to Broughton. Billy Simpson was their president, and Mrs. A. C. Hall advised them. I will never forget that campaign they had for president of the student body with real campaign managers, banners, and speeches. Billy Simpson was elected. It was about that time that the United States declared war," reminisced the clock.

"Well, I'll never forget that original Junior-Senior they gave their superiors," added Gloria. "The gym was decorated like a circus, and funny cartoons of outstanding seniors were hung around the tent. Bo Newcomb, Park and Worth White, and Charlie Penick drew the cartoons. Those juniors gave a mighty good play, 'You Can't Take It With You,' and Jackie Hawkins was an officer again—this time, as vice president of the student body."

"Well, I turned my hands 52,984 times around my face until the day those subbies became dignified seniors," said Claudia Clock. "They sat right down on the front row with Johnny Williamson as their president and Mr. G. E. Crawley as their adviser. They presented 'The Barretts' as their senior play. Of course, some of their classmates had left for the army, navy, and marines, and some went off to college and other schools so that they could graduate before they had to go to war. Congress had passed a law stating that 18- and 19-year-old boys could be drafted."

"I waved my flag proudly all year," added Gloria, "because I knew these seniors were thinking a great deal about me and their country. They organized a Victory Corps and Mabel Baucom made a service flag for the boys who had already left. One senior home room sent 77 copies of the Upper Room to the marine base at New River. They bought defense stamps and war bonds, gave patriotic programs, and all the senior boys took gym at the third period."

"I watched the seniors in their caps and gowns strolling along these walks today for the last time," said the clock in the tower, "and I wondered if they would remember all the little things that made them laugh and cry together during these years. They'll be getting their diplomas tomorrow night and saying goodbye."

"They'll never forget," said the flag pole. "They will even remember you and me and the lockers and the broken seats in the auditorium and Turner and the old showcase in the front hall. They'll reminisce once in awhile and when they do, they'll smile and say, 'Broughton wasn't such a bad place, after all'."

A Typical Broughton Day

BY TOMASINE CATES

Shutting off the alarm clock's ringing cry,
He rolls from his bed with a yawning sigh.
Fumbling in the dark, he gets his clothes on,
Grabs a bite to eat and he is gone.

He gets his coat, a couple of books, and yells to his friend,
Together they trod along battling against the wind.
"Why didn't that guy give us a ride?" he grimly asks
As he sees a rare automobile whizzing past.
He walks along by the light of the moon,
Taking care not to reach school too soon.

Puffing and blowing they progress slowly by degrees
Not giving any credit to the persisting breeze.
He dashes in the building a few minutes before nine,
Takes a deep breath and prepares for a three flight climb.
He bursts open his homeroom door and with a look of fear,
Peers up at the clock in the room and yells, "I'm here."

The first two periods he exercises his brain,
But that dreaded third period is his physical strain.
All that up down, running, and jumping like on parade,
Puts Latin, Geometry, and Chemistry back in the shade.

He goes back to his studies, not feeling too bright,
And earnestly tries to control his appetite.
Out of the room, and for the cafeteria he is bound,
When that long awaited lunch period rolls around.
Finally he finishes his lunch and feeling on top of the world,
He goes up into the hall and watches the jitterbugs whirl.
He thoroughly enjoys these minutes of free time,
But the next periods he's back in the old grind.

After the eighth period comes to an end,
His afternoon fun then really begins.
Basketball, tennis, and then he can hardly wait,
To finish his day with his favorite date.
He goes out feeling perfectly gay,
So ends his typical Broughton day.

(With apologies to all poets.)

How clean the school looked after that Spring clean-up campaign?
That Broughton claims many future models?
Mr. de Sola enjoying the sunshine outside the band room?
How much Bill Bell enjoys those Chesterfields?
How efficiently Grant Moen handled the financial matters of the school?
That "Red" Upchurch is Broughton's Charles Atlas?
How hard Charles Jones worked on the stage crew?
The pleasure that the LATIPAC class got in putting out this '43 edition?

MOST VERSATILE—

Reddy Kilowatt

Reddy Kilowatt, your Electrical Servant, cleans, cooks, sews, provides light, runs motors; in fact, he does just about anything. That's why he is so important in America's war production program, in homes, stores, and, well just about everywhere. Fortunately, America's business managed utilities foresaw the great demands for their servant so provided enough power for him to carry on all the jobs he is expected to do.

In conclusion, we, the staff of the 1943 LATIPAC, would like to give credit where credit is due to the many students, teachers, and business firms who have helped us to present to you this War Edition. If the senior class had not voted to have an annual this year, we would have certainly done without; therefore the very existence of this 1943 LATIPAC is a result of the fast talking and the quick thinking of your dignified seniors.

We hope that you will appreciate this edition more than any other yearbook that you have owned because we have struggled through government orders and shortages to present it. The pictures may be smaller, the pages cut, and the mats made from substitutes; but the 1943 LATIPAC still represents a year at Broughton when our country was at war.

BUILDERS DREAMS

VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.

It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to cooperate with the staff in creating their vision into material form.

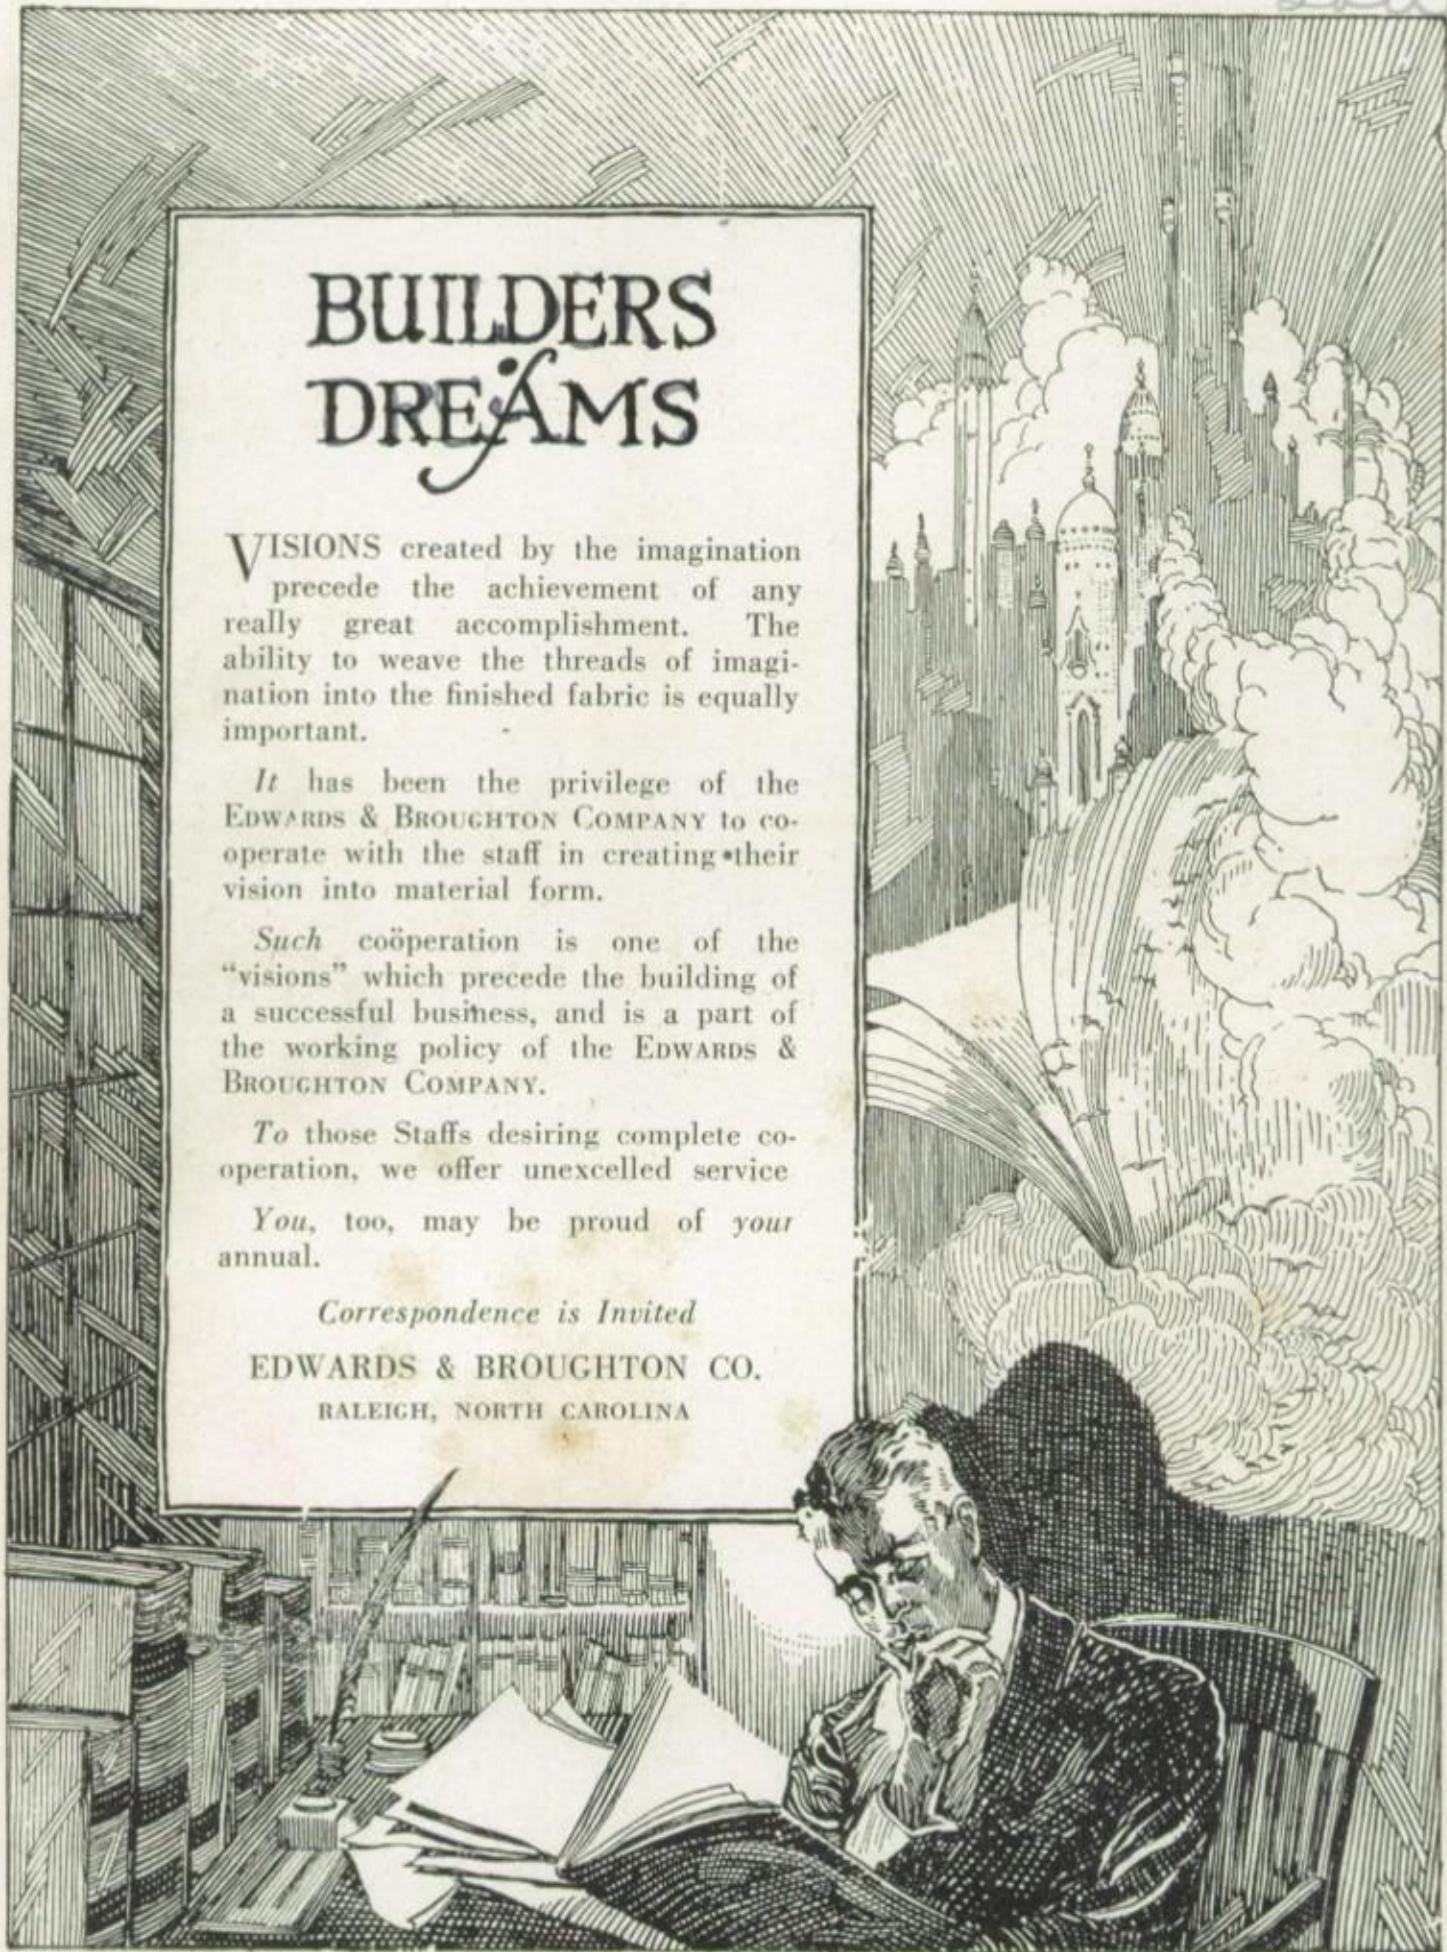

Such coöperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.

To those Staffs desiring complete co-operation, we offer unexcelled service

You, too, may be proud of your annual.

Dear Bettie Ann,

Gosh! I've loved being with you this year. I'm going to write you this summer. I've loved writing you those notes. Be sweet and I'm going to write more in here. Love, Sis

Hey! Here I am again. I'm so hungry - I forgot to eat lunch! Bettie Ann, you are a fine person and I'm glad I got to know you so well this year. All those notes and giggles, etc. I'll never forget them or you. Write me this summer - Love, Sis

Dear Betty Ann,

" You're a regular Jean White, no fooling!! I can see you up there as "Miss Needham Broughton or "Belle" better yet.

Really "Bet" you've got what it takes!!! Do you know how much paper it would take for me to name all the good things about you? Well it'd take just about 25 pages back and front, but inst.
of listing your <sup>good</sup> qualities I'll just say you're a darn cute gal, I mean it!!

I've really enjoyed knowing you and your family and until I die I'll never forget how sweet you've been to me.
Well — G'bye "Cute stuff"
Love always,

Dear Betty Ann,

You are the sweetest girl I have ever met. You thrill me more every time I look at you. You are so pretty and so sweet. I hope you never have to worry about boy friends, but I know you needn't worry about such things.

We really had some good times in History, haven't we? Too bad we are leaving Greg but, then we can't have "Rick" forever, can we? Betty Ann, how you got 4 on History for the year.

Best of Luck Always,

Love

Erin Barry
